I played 30 minutes and that was enough. while the flying physics in the free flight mode are enjoyable, the levels are a total mess. the first level is easy enough, but the second level is horrible. you need to fly through the rings but you have a limited amount of fuel. the first plane doesn't have enough fuel, so I grinded the first level a lot to buy the second plane, that moved to fast to control! I personally don't recommend it unless you really really like free flight and exploration. to be fair, the animation and visuals are pretty good.
